Tune—Numbers on the inside, #80; Song Book, 664.

When we gather at last over Jordan,
Mark the gospel never is sounding;
Christ has suffered on the tree;
Streams of mercy are abounding;

Grace for all is rich and free.

Now, as we stand here, look to Him who died for thee.

What a wonderful sight it will be!
When we see all the saved of the world!

Oh, what a sight 'twill be when The Army we shall see.

As numbered as the sands on the seashore;

When we see all the saved of the world!

When we see all the saved of the world!

When we see all the saved of the world!

When we see all the saved of the world!

When we see all the saved of the world!

When we see all the saved of the world!

When we see all the saved of the world!

When we see all the saved of the world!

TWENTY-FIVE years ago, in the city of Edinburgh, Allan Major White met The Salvation Army. In the course of time became converted in one of its meetings. Like many another man of his day and ours, he had "no home and no God but God le the world." A favorite pastime, however, being his favorite pastime, and a frequenter of the theatre, he was indeed "one of the lost."

For the first few months after he had accepted Christ, his faith right and wrong, he had promised was sanctified and strengthened.

In His service, he became "strong in the Lord and in the power of His might," and for years has been a valiant soldier of the Cross.

Trained in the Toronto Garrison, the Chancellor for the Winnipeg Division, the Field (his first Captain), he has been married to Captain Winnie Craig for the past nineteen-odd years.

After serving in the Canadian Forces, including Riversdale (Toronto), Windsor, Portage la Prairie, Spokane (Wash.), they were appointed to Speake's Hill, London, Ontario, where Mr. Allan has charge of the Subscribing Department.

Then followed a period at Van

"Ok, wash me now," 121; "Hiding in the cradle," 14.

"Home for Jesus," 142; "Never can tell," 142.

"Have you a room for Jesus?" He who loves you, loves me, 143.

"As He knocks and asks admittance, Sinner, will you let Him in?"

"Home for Jesus, King of Glory!" Sinner now, His word obey, 144.

"Jesus now, His word obey, Open His arms, Sinner, I'll open mine." 145.

"Room for pleasure, room for business; But for Christ the room is best, In the house for which He died."

"Do you any time for Jesus?" As in grace He calls again!

"Oh, 'Today' you may call in vain."

"Room and time now give to Jesus; Sorrow will pass God's day of grace."

"And your Saviour's pleading know!

A Prayer for a Flaming Heart

Oh make my life one blazing fire Of pure and holy ardor, till The lost to find, the lost to save, And give them cause Thy name to praise,

Be it ever mine to burn, to glow, So that, wherever I may go, Thy love shall conquer every foe!

"At the cross there's room," 209.

"Sinner, whereas'er thou art,

"At the cross there's room;

"To lay the burden of thy heart,

"At the cross there's room;

"Toll it in thy Saviour's ear,

"Cast away thy every fear,

"Only speak, and He will hear,

"At the cross there's room!

"Haste thee, wanderer, tarry not,

"To seek a consecrated spot;

"Heavy laden, come to me,

"In the Saviour there's room!

"Heathen, come today,

"Hark! the Bride and Spirit say,

"Now is living fountain seen,

"Come to me, and I will heal,

"Rich and poor, for bond and free,

"Blessed thought! For ye are free,

"Love's almighty work is done,

"Streams of boundless mercy flow,

"Free all to who will hear,

"Oh, that all the world might know!

"Hope urges us on toward better times

"To be born, to be born,

"Through clouds and winding paths of mystery,

"Hope builds the city ere a stone is

"Hope sees new glories born of wild and waste;

"Hope lights the candle, treasures lost,

"Hope dries the tear of grief beside the grave.

Backslider's Week—Dec. 4 to Dec. 10

Hundred Times in Prison

Attracted by the music, "Burglar," John, who is now a good Salvationist, stumbled into the Salvation Army public-house, and was carried into the Army hall. Throughout the meeting Jack was in a highly agitated state of mind. He knew he must be saved—but he had such a lot to give up. In addition, the devil reminded him that only a short time before he had "spotted" a certain woman in a house, easy of entry, where there was another plenty of "sway." Jack was about to leave the hall when the Officer spoke to him. He also (Continued on Column Four)

Nearing Home

By Commissioner Lawley
In time of strife, my mind is there—
In Heaven, where peace dwells, every where;

My heart is raised up to worlds above,
Where God is King and reigns in love.

For a faithful friend has left us,

Not to visit earth again;

Then I shall see His face to face;

Behold my Saviour and my King,

Through endless days His praises to sing;

A few more storms, then storms are o'er;

No more tempests, than tempests are o'er;

A few more days, then home, sweet home;

A few more hours, then hours of rest;

With his gates, no more to roam;

At home with His Who is me,

And gave His all to set me free;

Or bit, or sting, or pain, or smart,

No more tears, then tears fare-well;

No more God can ever dwell;

The cause of pain and tears is past,

The bitter world is mine at last.

The Living Word Assisted by doubt, and sceptic's unbelief;

Or buried in the dust of earthly

And sung aside in anger and disdain;

By those who, in its power sweet relief,

Mighty, though sorrow, sigh and grief,

Telling sinners, "Feed the call."

They languish on in slavery and

Till weared down they fall, as withered leaf;

Alas! that Truth so precious should

Its wings cast away as worn and old;

Yet, courage take, all ye who hold it

Till the ashes of a flaming world grow

Leisure,

The Ward of God abideth firm and cleared up several difficulties, and in the end piloted him to the mercy-seat.

No wonder the police and residents were delighted with the capture, for in addition to being a murderer, a thief and a "terror to flight," he had served a hundred or more terms of imprisonment.

One being told by one of his old mates, soon after conversion, that they were getting on badly without him, he replied: "I'm getting on better than you and God's help I mean to stick to The Army."

Religion, richest favor of the skies.

The Salvation Army's Armistice Day Service in the City of London,
Showing Part of the immense Crowd

FROM the balcony of the Mansion House on Armistice Day a Salvation Army service, attended by 30,000 people, was conducted by Commissioner Mapp, supported by leading members of the Headquarters Staff, and assisted by the Staff Band. Well-known hymns were sung, prayer offered, and the "Last Post" sounded. A description of the event appears on page 8.
